Lucky Leek Productions, abbreviated to LLP, is the Roblox studio behind Random Rumble. This document will go into details about their devteam, testers and notorious community members. Exposing things such as pedophilia, unpaid and uncredited development contributions, racism and transphobia, general rudeness towards employees, player botting, LLP devs/mods protecting pedophiles for financial incentive, and more. This evidence was compiled over the span of the past 2 years starting in early 2023. This is a condemnation of the behavior of their developers, moderators, specific testers, and "notable" users in their community with close contact to the staff.

This document was fueled out of LLP's neglect and refusal to solve problems within their community when brought to them privately as well as the actions of their own staff.

This document was written by @BlazeKickStew, @Lush_Bear04, @BLUEBLASTER_lol2 and @Old_greg2004. with evidence and contributions from @Henry_HeartGold and @wgstormer.

Here are alternate aliases used for the writers for context:
@BlazeKickStew - chccon, Chicken, "I only use default pokeballs"
@Lush_Bear04 - Lush
~~@BLUEBLASTER_lol2 - Aquarian En1gma, En1gma~~
@Old_greg2004 - Spike, Cosmic

We will try to condense each entry as much as possible while being concise and clear with the evidence. Check comments for more info on the exposed users and evidence. If you have any questions, the writers of this document will be glad to answer.

The writers of this document want no association with LLP going forward, the behavior detailed in this document has caused all of us stress and unwanted traumas as well as put many innocent members of LLP's community in danger.

We do not condone harassment, we only want to reveal the truth. Harassment against any parties, entities, or persons is simply uncalled for and unproductive.

CONTENT WARNING

Much of this document contains inappropriate & trauma inducing subjects including but not limited to: Pedophilia, NSFW material (porn), mistreatment of employees, racism and transphobia, stalking, harassment & more. Reader discretion is advised.

1. LAZY ANIMATOR

Lucky Leek has a tendency to favor pedophiles and refuse to moderate their server, potentially for financial incentive. A top donator "LazyBling" aka Vap/CatCam/Lazy Animator & more display names, Is a predator and was messaging a minor who was 16 at the time and him being 20. Both engaged in sexting and Bling has shown a romantic and sexual interest towards this individual and even sent a picture of his buttocks to the minor. Here is Bling's YouTube channel, and here is Bling's "undercover" Twitter profile used to expose child predators

And I researched it like a creep, so long as I'm twenty when we start dating when you're seventeen then it's considered appropriate!!
Yea!! You can even look it up if ya wanna Btw, when's your b-day?

A notable LLP Discord member named wgstormer had warned other people about Bling's disgusting behavior, but unfortunately Bling began to manipulate the situation and got away with it because Lucky Leek staff did not care and people began to doubt what was being discussed because most were outsiders who didn't know what was going on. To summarize, wgstormer and Bling got into an argument and Bling was muted for a while before his mute was mysteriously lifted. None of the community members knew what was going on behind closed doors and simply left it at that. The mods barely did anything despite knowing these details, they actively let this creep stay in the community despite evidence of him being a child predator/groomer.

Below is a screenshot from RegalPosture's DMs, an LLP mod that had only muted Lazy despite knowing what he was guilty of.

that's what I've been sent I dont know the full context I apologize, apparently the mod regal has been sliding with a member and doing shady business with them to get them banned I suppose bistru 06/13/2023 9:59 PM
oddly enough, it was just suppose to be a mute but since regal never implied a duration it ended up being a "ban" by accident other than that if they're all well and fine now and avoids feeding into provocation by members which leads to drama, i don't see a reason why they can't be unmuted if they're genuinely being attacked there is no reason the person attacking them shouldn't be punished as well just need to let the staff know
Message @bistru
This image above is bistru, aka HurtMegamind saying that Bling is allowed to be unmuted because he believes the "drama" is over.

There is no clear reason as to why Bling wasn't permanently banned. The mods have little interest in serving the community or doing their jobs when investigating predators and are supposed to be protecting minors in their server. From what we assumed it's because Bling is a top donator who invested in Random Rumble's development. Regarding Bling and his background, we have found he is not just a child predator, a groomer, and a sexual deviant. He has also engaged with content used in Condo game communities and purchased explicit Roblox avatar items and studio model creations such as these, It is uncertain if he has played a condo game, but there is clear evidence he engages with these assets seems to support the creation of them. Below are examples of assets and avatars he owns.

2. LILITH/VALORI

Another known predator is Lilith/Valori who was incredibly toxic and hostile in the LLP server. often getting offended by the littlest things such as suggestions of adding new emojis to the Lucky Leek Discord or moments of hostility and rage after playing Random Rumble and losing a match in a VC that BlazeKickStew and other playtesters were in at the time (all happening in a public Roblox game server and the LLP General VC channel) At first we just thought they were weird but the truth slowly came out after BlazeKickStew (chccon, aka “I only use default pokeballs”) and AquarianEn1gma (aka BLUEBLASTER_lol2) attempted to calm this individual down resulting in them revealing their entire history of preying on a minor, serving a 16 month prison sentence and how a “group of angry polish teens” that were friends with the victim allegedly stalk Lilith and make them paranoid that playtesters in LLP were “working with them”.

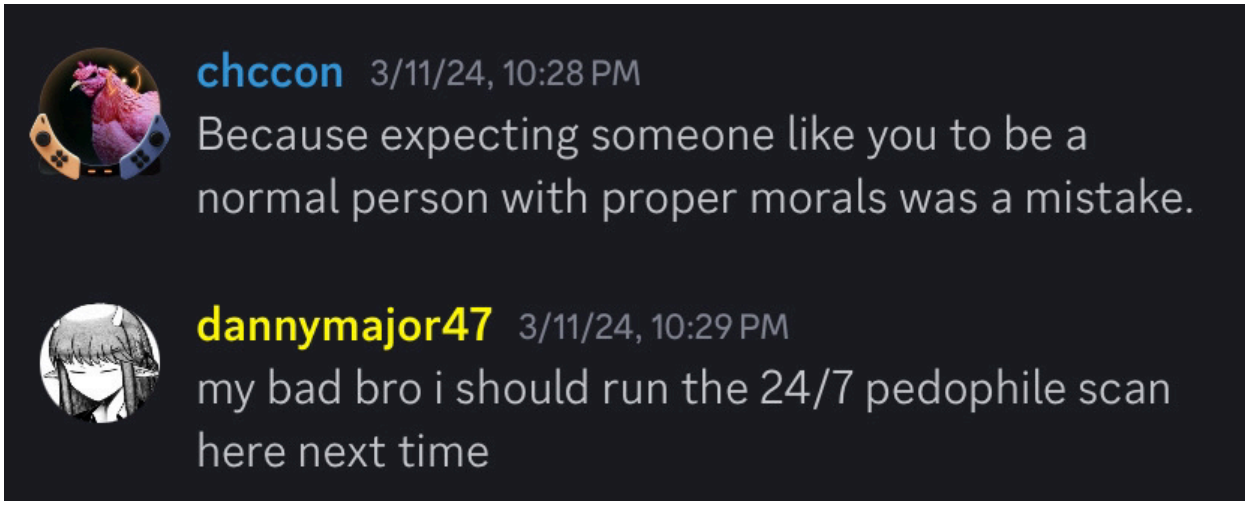
Message @Star Siste...

Lilith/Valori's hostility was because they had a guilty conscience from serving time in prison for sexting and grooming a minor and the victim's friends (who are often referred to as "the angry Polish teens" by Lilith) were rightfully angry. The Lucky Leek mods did not do anything to punish this user despite a personal admission of guilt. After their freakout over an emoji suggestion weeks later, they left the server for good and never came back. Unfortunately their Discord username cannot be traced because they kept changing it to avoid getting punished and eventually deleted their Discord account entirely.

Despite the community being this bad, Dannymajor47 thinks banning a convicted pedophile is too much effort and mocked chccon (aka BlazeKickStew) for raising the concern after it was ignored by HurtMegamind, the moderator that chccon and En1gma reported this evidence to months prior.



chccon 3/11/24, 10:28 PM
Because expecting someone like you to be a normal person with proper morals was a mistake.
dannymajor47 3/11/24, 10:29 PM
my bad bro i should run the 24/7 pedophile scan here next time

Dannymajor47, the lead developer, community manager and admin of LLP sarcastically suggesting he forgot to run the "pedophile scan" after this being not the first time we can recall predators being within the server and known by LLP's staff.

2. Mistreatment of employees / hostile work environment & weird testers, refusal to credit contributions.

Behind the scenes the Lucky Leek developers have shown themselves to be very hostile and manipulative people. They have a tendency to not credit people and outright say they "don't give a shit who created something". chccon had asked nicely to be credited on the DevForum post for a texture they made for the game, and was belittled and talked down to for it, After multiple weeks of refusal to credit, chccon confronted Danny & Stella privately, they simply refused again and downplayed the texture's quality. Because of this chccon decided to quit and never contribute or playtest for Random Rumble again because of the sheer incompetence and severe disrespect the devs showed to their employees.

Aside from that, the payment to testers and contributors is very low for a devteam that only has 3 developers (as of writing, it is Dannymajor47, TakeoHonorable, & Stellabotrus). While some contributors don't mind the pay, it was under minimum wage (US Federal, aka $7.25). It is illegal to pay employees so little while making hundreds of thousands, if not millions of Robux every few months.
Which if calculated as DevEx rates puts the LLP devteam at earning a few thousand dollars per DevEx, this means each of the 3 currently hired developers is paid hundreds of dollars per pay period while contributors & playtesters are paid literal pennies. I suggest not hiring so many people if you are just going to rip off the "little guys" in the equation.

dannymajor47 there is only 1 person in this world who gives a shit about that devforum post Stellabotrus 3/11/24, 10:34 PM and another thing is that the texture was literally an edit from kubo's sword gear, it wasn't made from scratch afaik dannymajor47 3/11/24, 10:34 PM
obviously nobody gives a shit about who made something either

Stella is just blatantly lying about the texture created by me (BlazeKickStew) and I will elaborate on why this is wrong. Danny and Stella are suggesting that because I did not redo the mesh's UV wrapping that my texture contribution did not deserve to be credited despite them knowingly using a texture I created in the game.

3. Scandals regarding Ginvah/Danny & game botting.

1. Player Botting & Danny's alts

Random Rumble was confirmed to have botted player-counts in 2021 and at select periods in 2023 and early 2024. While we cannot confirm who is responsible for the botting, Dannymajor47 has refused to clarify how or why this happened. Botting games causes a serious issue for fairness in the creator ecosystem, botted players improve player analytics, those metrics directly cause Roblox to push the game more in their game discovery algorithm which drowns out games that do not use bots to gain traction. And within recent months, many content creators have discussed Roblox games having botted players, usually it is so the botnet host can turn a profit from farming the game and black-market selling the items on third party sites, but the only group that profits from Random Rumble being botted is LLP themselves because of a lack of trading and items with monetary value. This is why we suspect that LLP was behind the botting of their game, but we also acknowledge it is possible it could have been a third party responsible.

We were able to uncover the game's player analytics after the Ginvah account was compromised during a hack we lovingly call the "Unluckiest Day" where a black-market user (who we do not know the alias of) stole the Ginvah account and gave all testers access to see the analytics after attempting to steal all the Robux in the group.

These analytics show Random Rumble being played by bacon hair bot accounts nearly 24/7 with a consistent player-count during early 2024. The suspicion behind why this was done is to rig Roblox's algorithm as player counts with "stickiness" (returning players that play consistently) push the game into Roblox's recommendation algorithm.

wgstormer is a former top donator that has donated 100,000 Robux to Danny, and quit engaging with Random Rumble after they reported Bling to the server staff about 2 years ago. BlazeKickStew interviewed wg for further context. The “friends” of Danny’s that are not alts are a few people I have heard of and can confirm are real. These discovered real people (as of currently) are FindingMyBoat, rider286, HurtMegamind. The majority of other developer accounts simply just disguises and alt accounts of Dannymajor47.

and have dev role for that but never actually had anyhting to do with the game

It is suspected by many LLP critics (most notably wgstormer and BlazeKickStew) that Dannymajor47 and the other "Original devteam" members are just Danny and his alts. Which based on use of the "Last Online" API prior to its removal shows that these "developers" only come online to use group payouts, respond to Danny's messages in #playtesting and old #general messages, and share his same vocabulary, and behaviors. Responding with full length messages within seconds to Danny but take months, if not years to reply to other people with single word responses. Some of these Roblox alts had not been logged into 2 years at minimum, some extending to being 4 years inactive.

dannymajor47 10/12/2021 6:08 PM
no the game has been at 0-20 players for the past few weeks because we are working on a large update and stopped running ads lol dont see anything on youtube

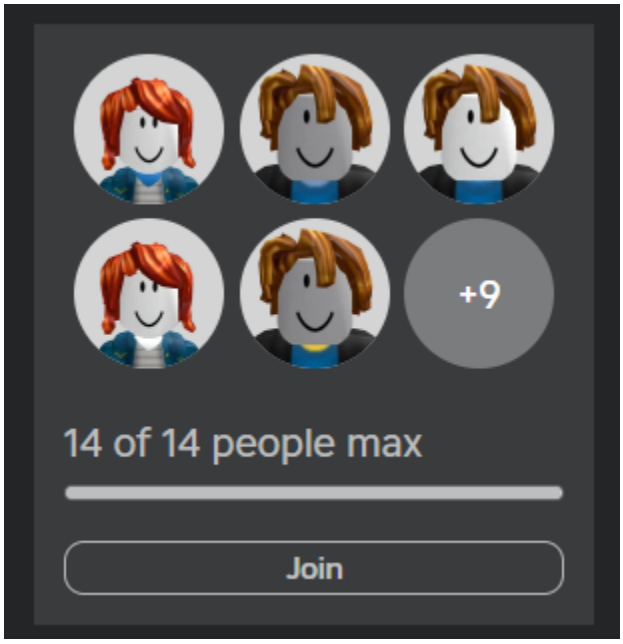
Here is an image taken in 2024 that shows that only default accounts were occupying entire servers. It is very unnatural for default accounts to occupy entire servers like this because if these were just random children's accounts, they would at least be wearing free items they acquired from the catalog.

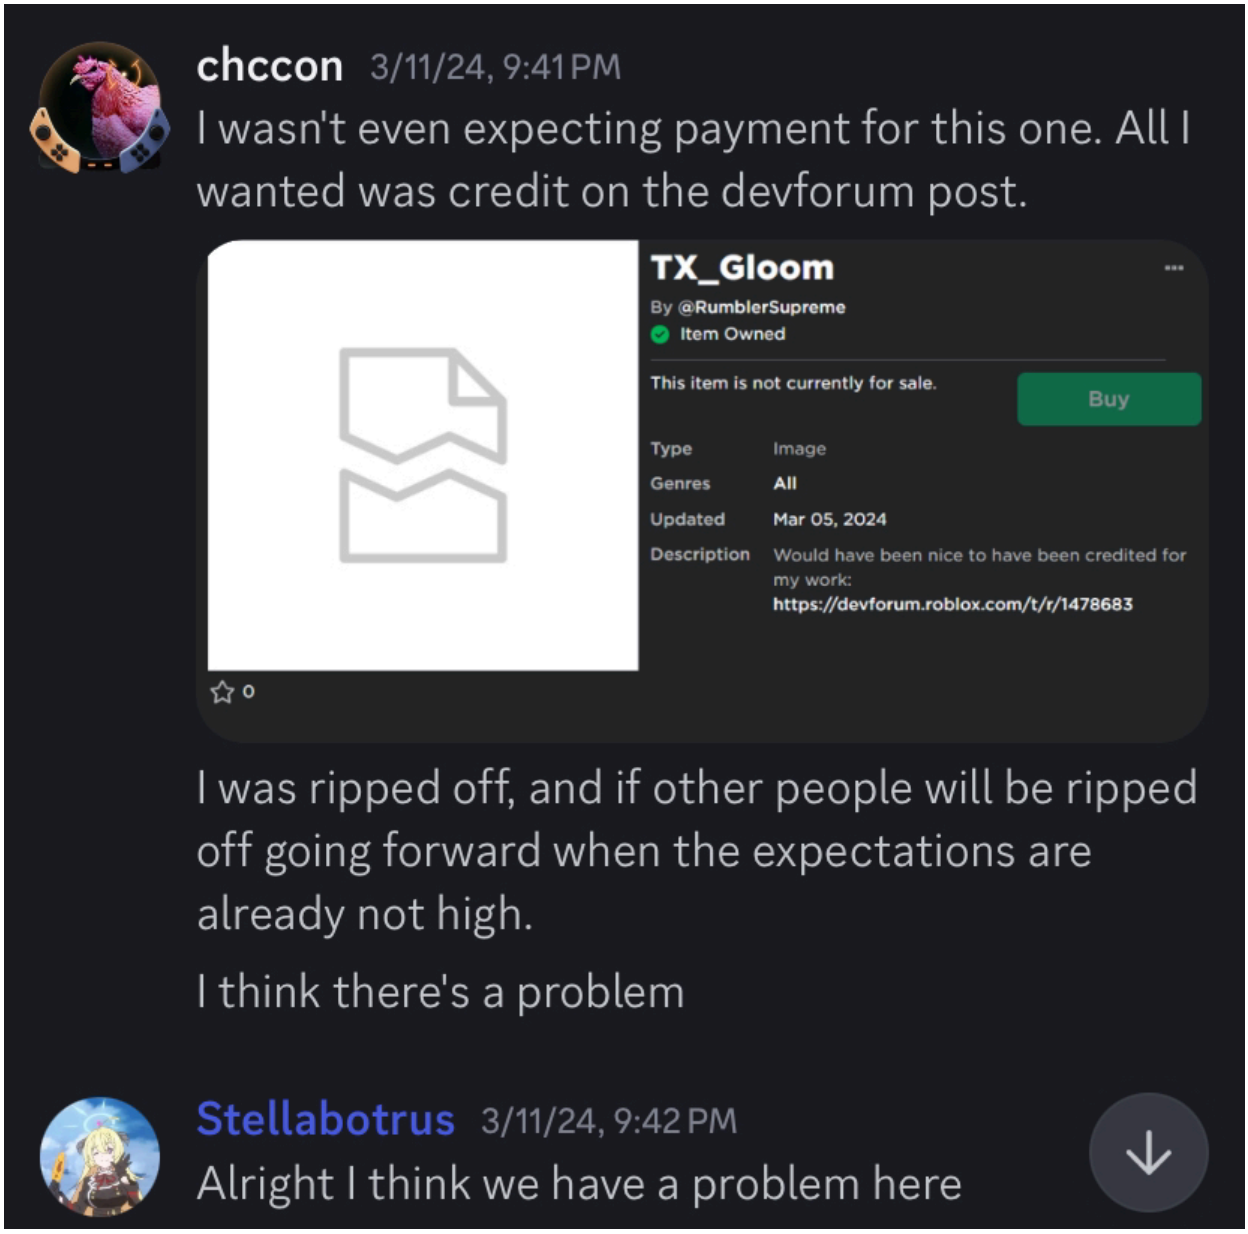


Yet Danny still insists no game botting ever occurred despite acknowledging suspicious player counts… we wonder what his response will be about this one.

Danny's refusal to acknowledge the unfair payment and lack of credit

LLP management have shown to disregard employee rights, and minimum wage.

Danny has shown little to no respect for the playtesters and contributors. and has admitted he doesn't care what someone made as long as it benefits him, He tries to make it look like it's the employee’s fault for accepting the job. However there are good people in this community and we want them to be treated fairly. Unfortunately Dannymajor47 refuses to acknowledge the issue.



chccon 3/11/24, 9:41 PM
I wasn't even expecting payment for this one. All I wanted was credit on the devforum post.

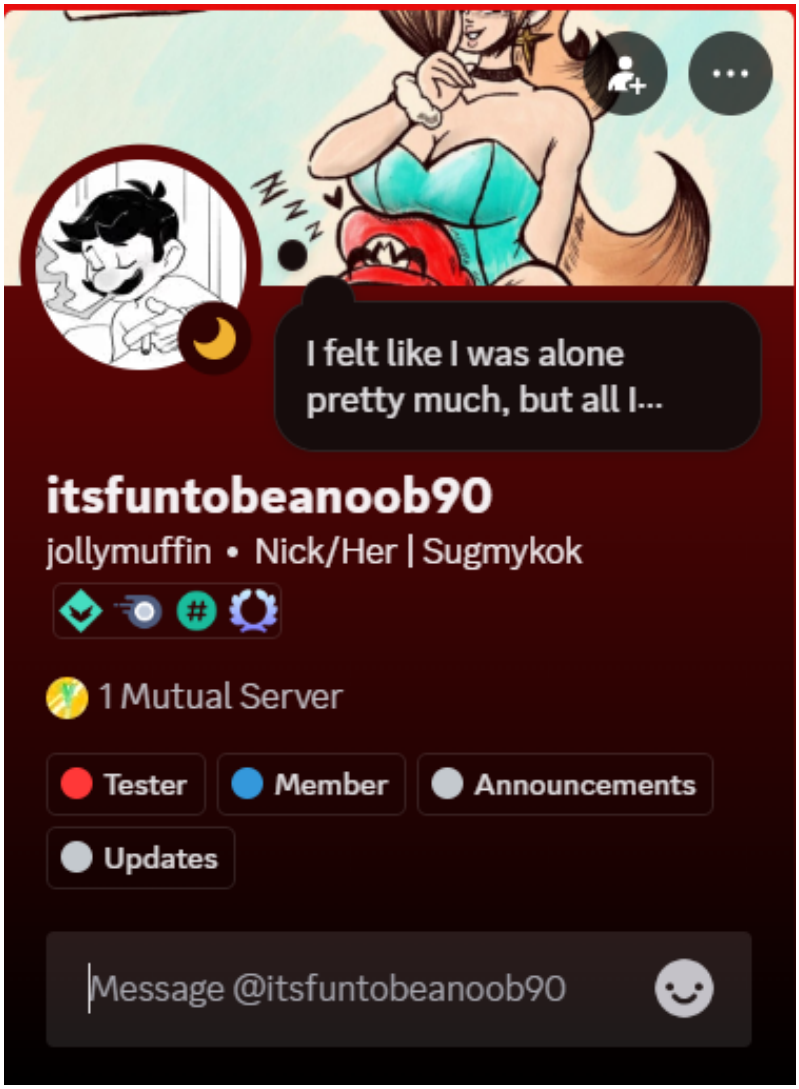
2. Weird inappropriate behavior from playtesters



A playtester going by the name of Jollymuffin aka (aka itsfuntobeanoob90) set his pronouns to “Nick Her” which is a racial slur bypass while also having NSFW artwork of Rosalina and Mario as their profile banner, keep in mind this was their public profile and they were displaying this content to a community of children. These people serve as a bridge between LLP Staff and the normal members which causes a lot of issues when testers are going around advertising NSFW material on their profiles in public Discord servers containing an audience of primarily minors.

This behavior is inappropriate in multiple contexts, and is illegal by US law, it is simply not legal to knowingly advertise and showcase pornographic material to children.

This is a conversation between a playtester going by the name of Cream and an alleged former moderator for LLP that has since been deleted off of Discord after discussing their desire to start creating R34 art.

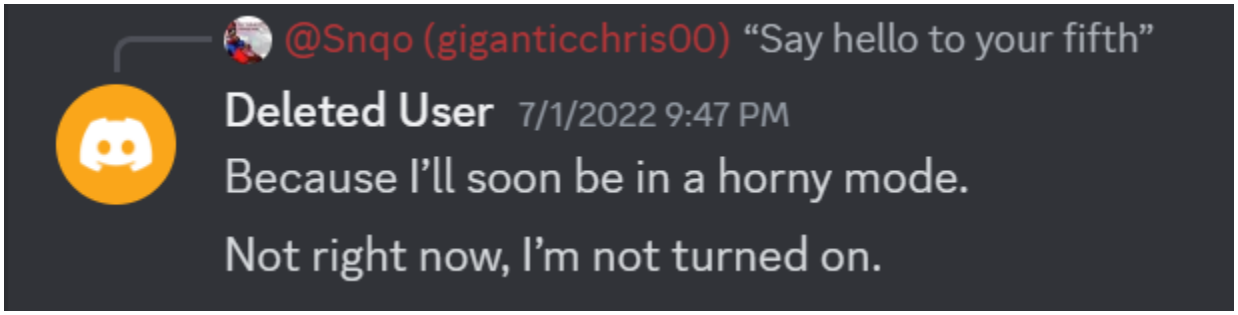
Playtesters being willing to enable this behavior and the moderators allowing it to go unpunished shows LLP has a tolerance towards sexual degeneracy being showcased to children.

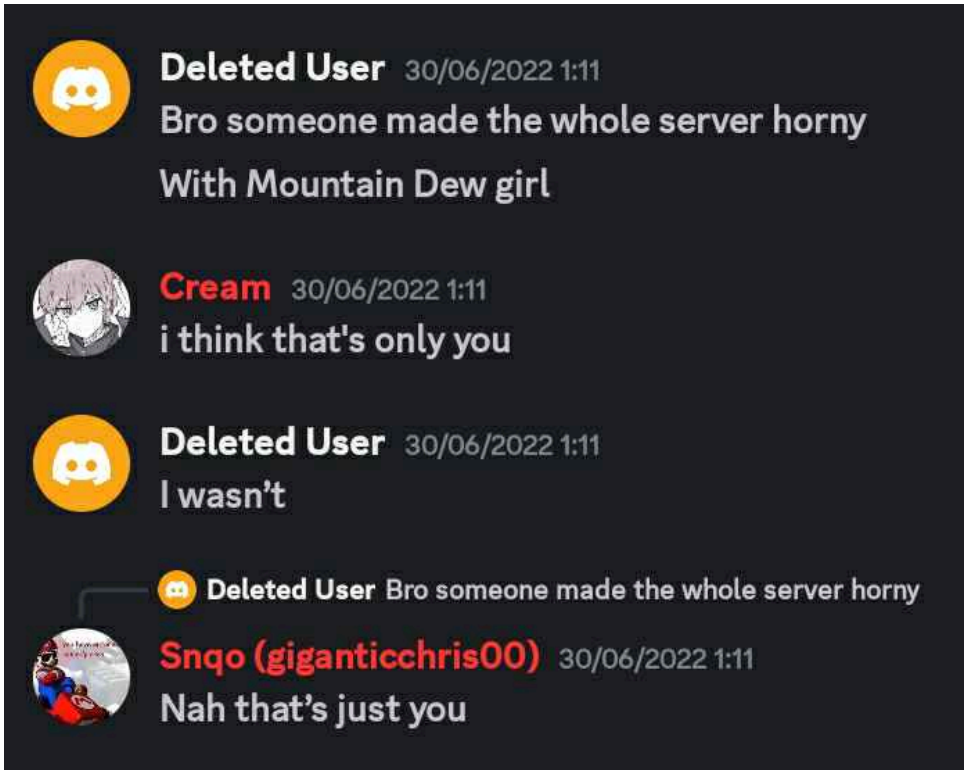
This is a screenshot of messages also allegedly belonging to the same now deleted former mod saying further inappropriate content in the server's public channels.



@Snqo (giganticchris00) "Say hello to your fifth"
Deleted User 7/1/2022 9:47 PM
Because I'll soon be in a horny mode.
Not right now, I'm not turned on.

For context, it is ridiculous that LLP refuses to moderate regular users and worse, their own staff. This user was seemingly banned from Discord itself and not the LLP server. Discord Trust & Safety had to step in and resolve this when this is LLP's problem to begin with.

This is another interaction involving the same user explaining their arousal at content someone had sent earlier that day.



Deleted User 30/06/2022 1:11

Deleted User Bro someone made the whole server horny
Snqo (giganticchris00) 30/06/2022 1:11
Nah that's just you
Keep in mind, minors were present for these conversations.

This is another conversation going into extreme detail about male genitals where Jarett, a tester and OG contributor is directly responding to this content in public channels where minors are present. And of course, the same deleted degen former mod is just supporting this content.

TheMadLad 10/20/21, 10:42 PM

Measurements vary, with studies that rely on self measurement reporting a significantly higher average than those with a health professional measuring. As of 2015, a systematic review of the best research to date on the topic has concluded that the mean length of an erect human penis is approximately 13.12 ≤ 1.66 cm (5.17 ≤ 0.65 in). [1] Flaccid penis length is generally a poor predictor of erect length.

Most human penis growth occurs between infancy and the age of five, and between about one year the onset puberty and, at latest, approximately 17 years of age.

It is mind numbingly ridiculous that people like this were allowed to say things like this directly to LLP staff and not be banned instantly for it.

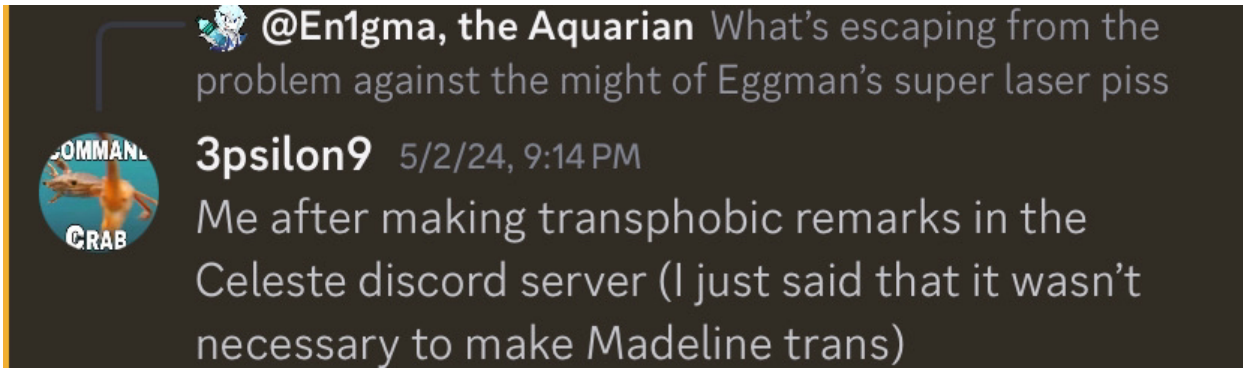
4. Pizzagod7908nom, and his vile behavior.

Pizzagod7908nom, often just shortened to Pizzagod, also going by “3psilon9” on most social media, is a contributor and playtester for Lucky Leek. At the start he was seemingly friendly. However, his behavior in the community devolved to him stalking and harassing our devteam, being a complete freak, obsessing over hating trans people and being homophobic, using racial slurs in fits of rage. Using the nword in “jokes” and more. His problematic behavior started shortly after he was credited for creating the mesh of a weapon called the “Palustaff”, which seems to have caused his behavior to avalanche into being a bigoted extremist that has been problematic in multiple game communities extending even past Roblox. These external communities are the Beat Saber community and Celeste community.

This chapter is necessary purely because he is racist, transphobic, doesn't understand boundaries, a liar & manipulator all for his own personal gain and has defamed the entire Blaze Kick Studios devteam, you will see within the next few paragraphs/images that he is mentally ill and needs serious psychiatric help.

At one point he complained about the Celeste community for criticizing him for not accepting the protagonist of Celeste as trans.



@En1gma, the Aquarian What's escaping from the problem against the might of Eggman's super laser piss
3psilon9 5/2/24, 9:14 PM
Me after making transphobic remarks in the Celeste discord server (I just said that it wasn't necessary to make Madeline trans)

Keep in mind, Madeline from Celeste is a self-insert of the developer behind Celeste. So he is saying that a trans person does not need to be acknowledged as trans. That is obviously discriminatory and goes without explanation as to why it's wrong. While this discussion occurred in a private group chat containing adults, it is still not okay to discriminate so openly and creates a harmful reputation for himself and his peers.

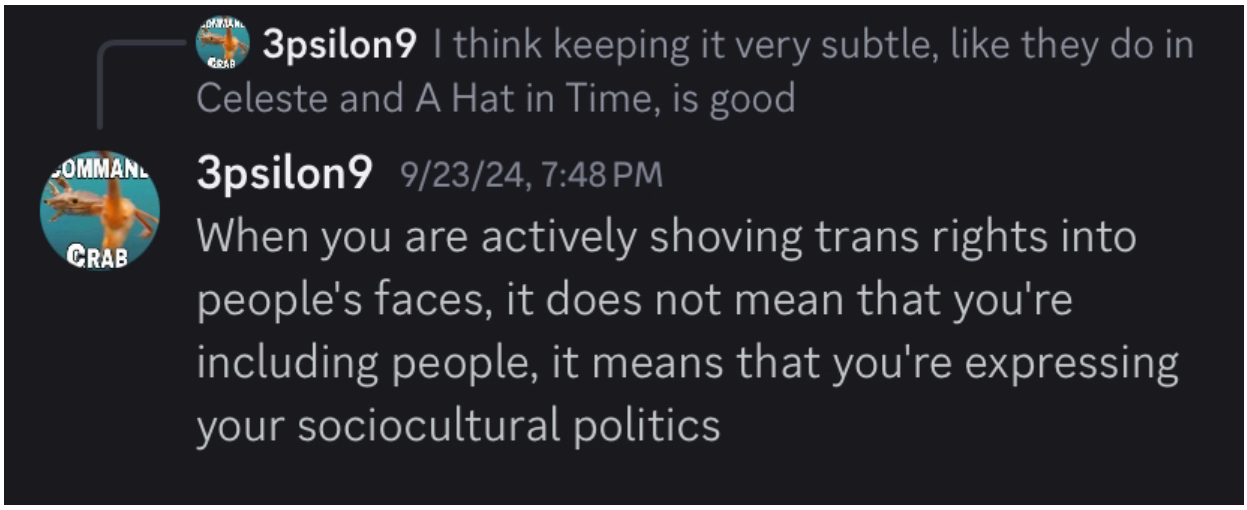
He even admits in this groupchat that his thoughts are coming from a "sociocultural politics" angle.



3psilon9 I think keeping it very subtle, like they do in Celeste and A Hat in Time, is good
3psilon9 9/23/24, 7:48 PM
When you are actively shoving trans rights into people's faces, it does not mean that you're including people, it means that you're expressing your sociocultural politics

He has been extremely inflammatory towards players of Random Rumble that manage to beat him in the game and showing an extremely immature and harmful sense of “humor” in public and private channels of the Lucky Leek Discord, as well as in external groupchats, servers, and platforms.

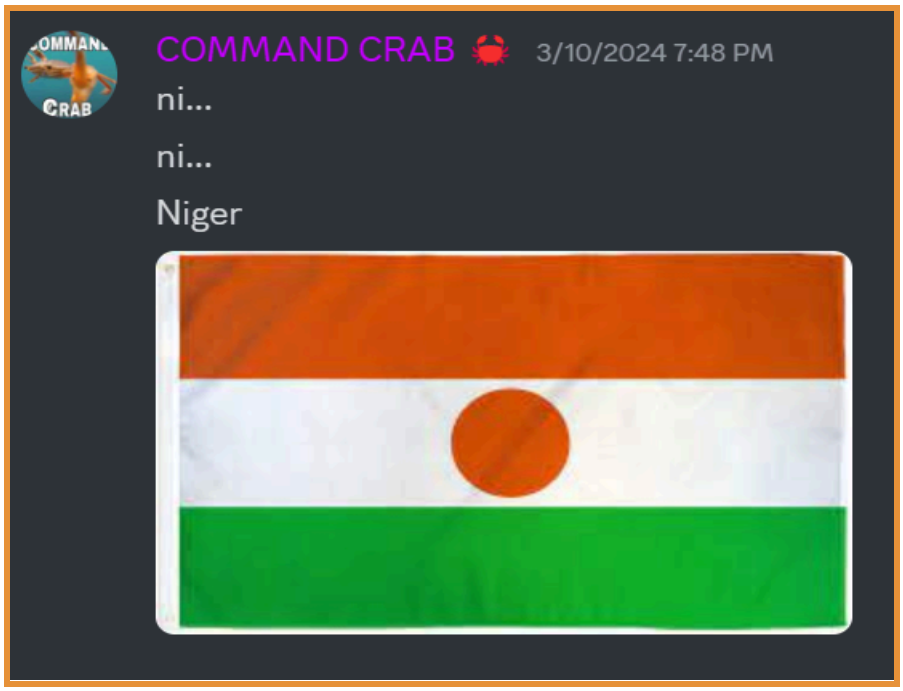
Context: Juerdos is completely unaffiliated with LLP and is just an innocent player of the game.

This next screenshot is just Pizzagod being incredibly immature and slur bating in the #general chat.



While in a match of Random Rumble, a player by the name of “Juerdos” was playing against Pizzagod and won, they were using the loadout of Ghostwalker, Flare Gun, Pocket Truck and Fusion Coil, causing Pizzagod to freak out and go to the private playtester chat and call this player the n-word and threaten him with murdering his family, dismembering him, and wanting seeing him dead. Playtesters were obviously confused and horrified. He had a tendency to become very hostile when someone beat him in games, others had tried calming him down and warning him about his behavior, yet the moderators themselves did nothing. Pizzagod promised to keep his emotions in check but he obviously has learned nothing. In the past he has shown to have “edgy” humour and tried to say racial slurs but would be cut off by people in the know or server staff suggesting he not do it.

En1gma, one of the writers of this document, wasn't happy about these events and had cut contact with Pizzagod for weeks over this instance making it very hard to continue playtesting when pretending problematic members of the team do not exist.

Pizzagod is friends with people who are controversial extremists. befriending a neo-nazi and doubling down. He believes it is okay to be friends with people who are bigoted and harmful just because they have “cool interests” thus he was rightfully judged for it.

Pizzagod has claimed to be disgusted by NSFW material and that being a primary reason he refuses to Google search female fictional characters, however a lot of Pizzagod’s Reddit history shows him to be very childish with his sense of humor, resorting to sex jokes and the majority of his posts either being replies about Beat Saber or some NSFW joke. At one point he referred to chccon by first name in an accusatory Reddit reply that was containing false statements.

I once had a friend post that in the Discord GC, and he immediately deleted it before I could even finish it. Now he's trying to gaslight the GC into thinking that he never posted it. I'm not kidding; this ACTUALLY happened. WELL WHO'S LAUGHING NOW, CAMERON?!

Keep in mind, we only discovered this while researching his behavior for this document. I do not know why he talks about me (chccon) on Reddit and I find it honestly creepy. I never gave him permission to call me on a first-name basis because I've only ever been an acquaintance towards him due to being a playtester for Random Rumble.

Pizzagod has shown a seemingly creepy interest in Lush_Bear04 such as wanting to know where she lives, trying to slander people close to Lush for his own personal benefit, and some now deleted vaguely flirtatious statements. When asked about these instances, he insists he has no interest in her and is not at all interested in sexual content as a whole. Yet his Reddit history disproves that, he has since deleted most of these posts/replies to cover his tracks after being criticized for lying. Despite LLP being made aware of Pizzagod's actions towards Lush and others, he is not banned from LLP.

For context, "EVIL SIMON" is a low effort Alvin and the Chipmunks OC he claims to have created, while researching for this document I have found that there were at least 2 artists that portrayed an "evil simon" OC with a similar design prior to him and are infinitely more creative. Which proves he also has a pattern of taking credit for things he did not create.

Although this screenshot was taken outside Lucky Leek it should be noted this type of behavior is obviously wrong. However when LLP staff were informed of these things they brushed it off and ignored his actions.

Pizzagod had also written [a creepy vore fetish fanfic about Lush] where she eats his personal box of cereal and he gets mad and summons a “familiar” of Kirby, Palutena and Mii Brawler to brutally murder her and he then bakes her corpse into a pizza. It also goes without saying this is extremely inappropriate to write something like this about someone that isn’t interested in you at all. Writing inappropriate fanfiction about real people is NOT okay, and the fact that LLP tolerated this and did not remove him immediately is just completely insane.

We also need to address Pizzagod’s slanderous claims about my texture and the development of [Dice Roll Dash], this screenshot is Pizzagod downplaying the way Danny treats his employees and lying through his teeth about multiple statements about Blaze Kick Studios. First let’s address the texture, anyone who creates anything deserves credit, simply put, Danny himself acknowledged chccon created the texture when he said “Nobody gives a shit who created something”. Pizzagod does not seem to be willing to admit what truly transpired. Next up, the botting claims, Danny himself also recognizes the game had unnatural and seemingly botted traffic as well as our observations and evidence, so this is another bogus claim from Pizzagod to cover up the truth. Continuing forward, Pizzagod brings up the YouTuber Gone_Fishinq, who is completely unrelated to this document and our critique of Danny and his team. Gone_Fishinq only had two points in his now deleted exposé in common with our document and those are that RR had a botted player-count and that Dannymajor47 is a frequent user of alt accounts to manipulate and cover up the narrative and truthful contents of RR's history. Next up, his critique of "a game that spites RR", he is specifically referring a game created by the Blaze Kick Studios devteam (aka us, the writers of this document) called Dice Roll Dash, a game within the same genre as Item Asylum (IA) and Random Rumble (RR), however our game was in development before I (BlazeKickStew) even joined the LLP Discord, Pizzagod has shown he is willing to slander games that are not even released yet and still in early development to make himself look like a hero. This has really hurt the morale of our devteam and makes us not certain if we should even create our game considering the harassment and slander we've been receiving from Pizzagod, he has since been permanently banned from the Blaze Kick Studios Discord which can be seen below. Creation dates for assets for our game go back to late 2022 (see the asset screenshots below Pizzagod's claims)

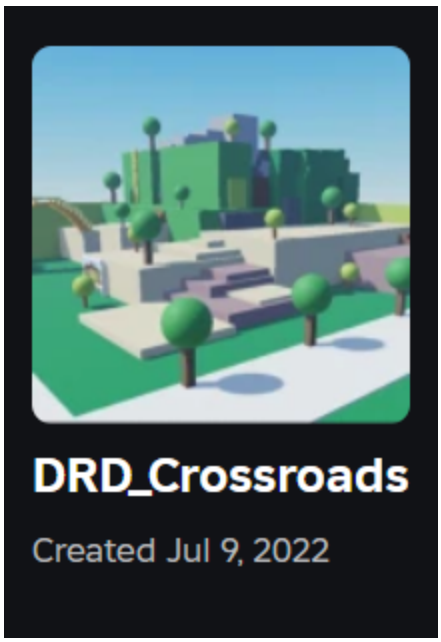
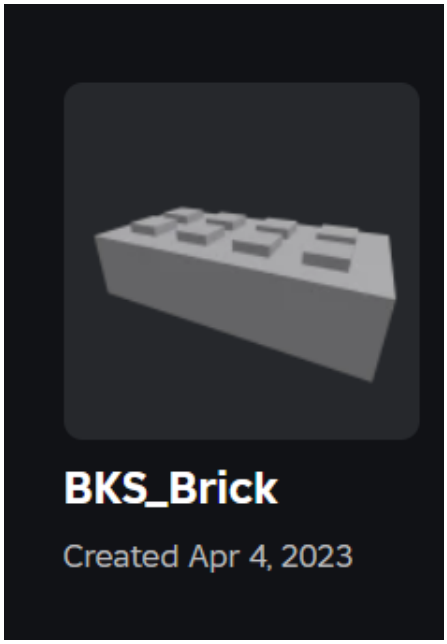
3psilon9 06/16/2024 11:19 AM
Oh
So, what he meant by this was that of Random Rumble's consistent servers
Which is something a lot of games do
Danny's counterargument was solid and clear
And, in return, gone_fishinq lost his trusted IA role
After all, RR and IA are allies
He's making that game out of spite for RR
Anyway, after the botting claims came the main event
Being credited for Gloomsword

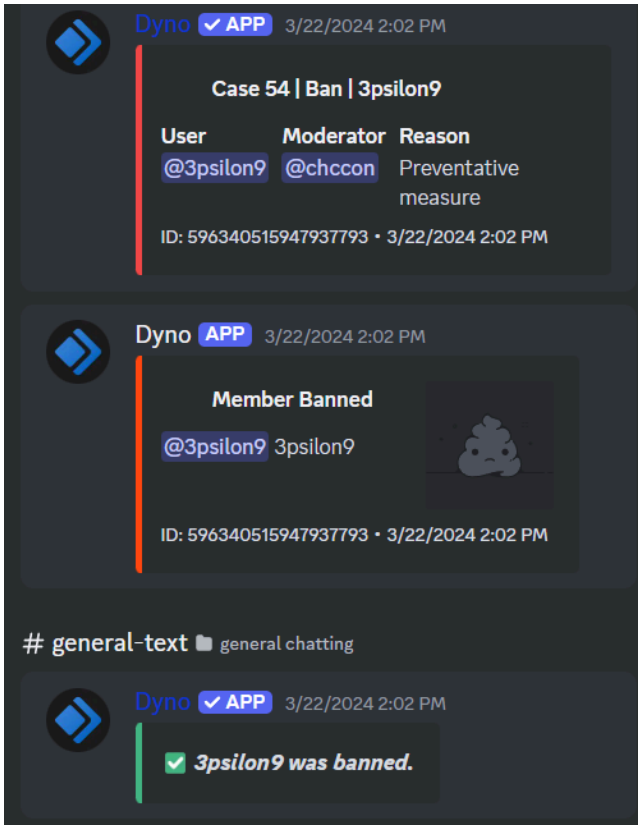




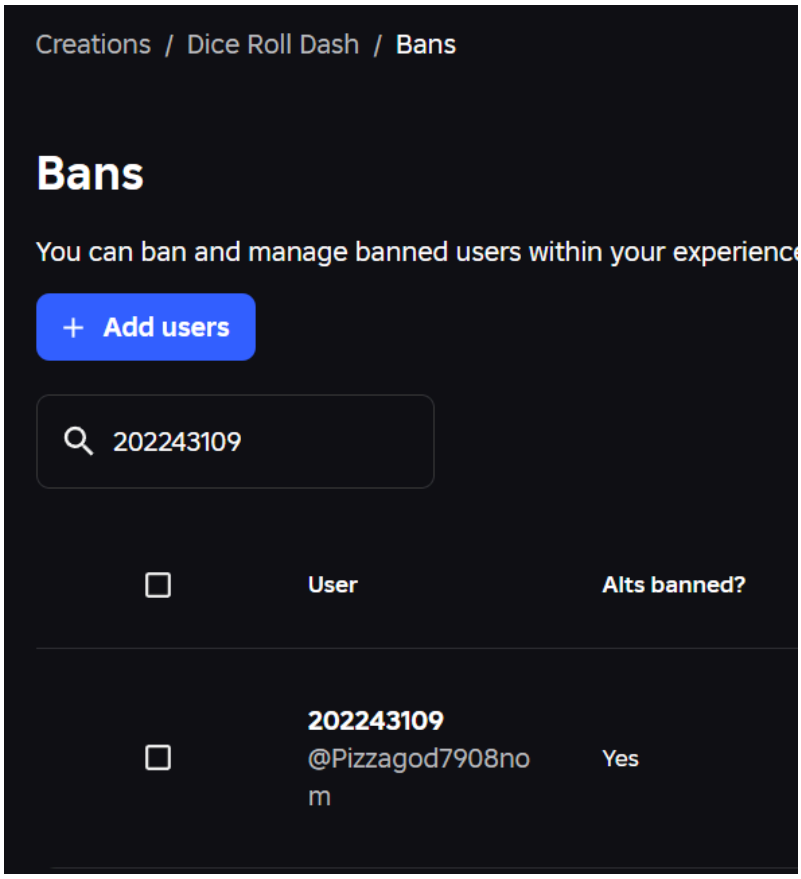
DRD_Crossroads is a map icon render I (chccon) made in 2022, the year before I even figured out what Random Rumble even was.

BKS_Brick is a mesh I created for the currency we are using in-game for buying cosmetic items.

And the “Revolven’t” is a rapid fire revolver weapon we were actively working on before putting primary focus on this document.



Pizzagod is permanently banned from the Blaze Kick Studios Discord because he has shown an unhinged interest in harassing and slandering our devteam and being creepy towards Lush, the art director.



He is also permanently from Dice Roll Dash because he has shown himself to be a very toxic and unwanted individual. At Blaze Kick Studios we want our community to follow ToS (Of both Discord, and Roblox), just as our team does. Rules exist for a reason.

5. LLP allowing <13 users to remain in the server.

This is an extremely reckless decision that has put numerous underage server members in danger considering Lucky Leek's serious problem with sexual degeneracy. A confirmed under 13 member of LLP was a user by the name of Mewtwo, and because he was 12 at the time of his ban, I will not reveal much about his identity. To summarize, he showed a YouTube video he made about Plants Vs. Zombies 2 and because he was already controversial for being annoying and childish, people suspected he was underage, chccon (BlazeKickStew) checked his YouTube channel and found a video he posted where he admitted to being underage. En1gma and chccon pinged a moderator to send them evidence and they shrugged it off and let him remain in the server until he was eventually banned for criticizing Random Rumble and insulting the moderator HurtMegamind.

Keep in mind Discord ToS states you have to be 13 or older to operate a Discord account.

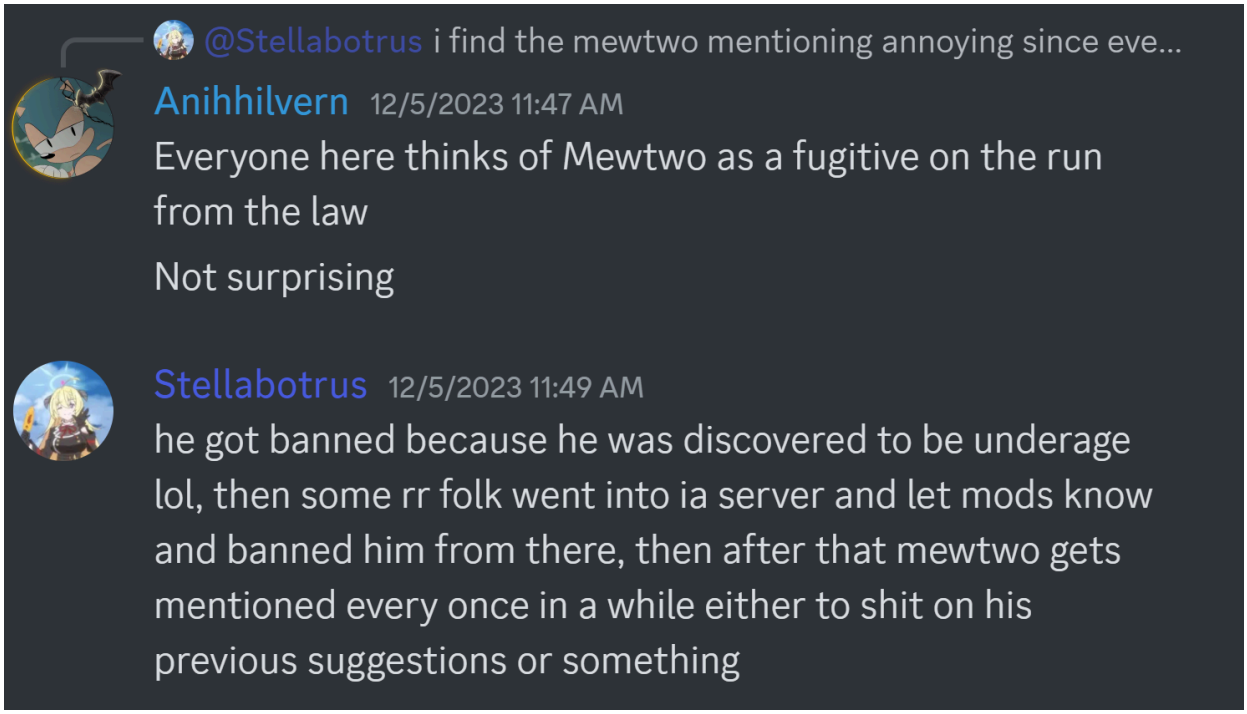
Here is a screenshot after Mewtwo's ban where Stella acknowledges he was underage and should have been banned for it. However she is lying about why he did get banned. He was banned for criticizing Random Rumble and was allowed to remain there for weeks after despite moderators knowing.



@Stellabotrus i find the mewtwo mentioning annoying since eve...
Anihhilvern 12/5/2023 11:47 AM
Everyone here thinks of Mewtwo as a fugitive on the run from the law
Not surprising
Stellabotrus 12/5/2023 11:49 AM he got banned because he was discovered to be underage lol, then some rr folk went into ia server and let mods know and banned him from there, then after that mewtwo gets mentioned every once in a while either to shit on his previous suggestions or something

5. Stellabotrus, and her manipulation and mistreatment of staff.

Speaking of Stellabotrus, let's go into details about her mindset in all this. In recent months, she has started attempting to silence me (BlazeKickStew/chccon) and prevent my thoughts from being shared publicly, as well as accusing me of things she has 0 evidence for. She believes that I am responsible for a parody account of Dannymajor47, I am simply not. I refuse to stoop to levels that low about a problem as serious as the LLP community. Stella banned me from LLP for this non-reason. And then in #playtester channels demands that none of the playtesters associate with me or speak to me. And refusing to elaborate on what "evidence" she claims to have. This shows a pattern of her lying, being manipulative, and hostile towards former and current employees.

Keep in mind, I did not know the reason for my ban until a playtester named Ranchbird contacted me later that day and explained what happened and asked me questions about where I was that day. I personally suspect Stella was aware I was probably writing this document and wanted to find a way to silence a flow of information.

Context: I asked Spike to ask Stella to elaborate on how any of the information I've been sent could cause any negative effect. The date of these images being taken was January 13th, 2025.

I was not even using Discord for most of that day, I was doing a mixture of things in my personal life because I did not have a work shift that day. I was writing this document, developing one of my other game projects the whole morning and until the afternoon, then for the afternoon I was visiting my grandparents because they are moving to a new home. I don't see how I can be responsible for a parody account when my day was me, Lush and others, writing this document, me working on game projects, and then visiting and helping my elderly family members. I am very busy, too busy for this nonsense. Any free time I do have is spent doing game development or communicating in my Discord server. I find it ridiculous and childish to accuse me (and the Blaze Kick Studios devteam) of making a parody account. We have lives and our own personal responsibilities. We wrote this document to hopefully ask Lucky Leek's staff to improve their behavior and to do the right thing, as well as letting the innocent members of Lucky Leek know the truth. However most of us involved with writing or contributing evidence do not believe LLP's bad actors are capable of changing for the better.

Update: Stellabotrus has since changed her Roblox username to necleric to hide from consequences.

In conclusion,

LLP Staff have proven themselves to be negligent, manipulative, and extremely sleazy.

I would like to thank the contributors to this document, whether it was just evidence or full writings.

Which include: @BlazeKickStew, @Lush_Bear04, @Old_greg2004, @Henry_HeartGold

And I'd also like to thank you, the reader, for taking the time to read about this. Going forward, we are going to prioritize ourselves, the investigation for this document has been very taxing on everyone involved. There is plenty of evidence we couldn't even show because it was that bad.

So yeah, thanks again and please stay safe!
